Germany: Global Research and Exchange Opportunities

Leslie Harlson

Abstract

The German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD) is a publicly-funded, independent organization of higher education institutions in Germany which provides financial support to over 67,000 highly-qualified students and faculty per year for international research and study in all academic disciplines. A DAAD representative will present the array of grants available in Germany to students and faculty at North American universities, with a special focus on research collaboration.

Links:

• Funding programs for undergrads, graduate students, postdoc and faculty to study, research or intern in Germany
  www.daad.org
• Central information platform to inform researchers and scientists about research in Germany and provide an overview of the research and funding opportunities in Germany www.research-in-germany.de
• One-stop shop for anything students need to know about studying in Germany.
  www.study-in.de